NEW CANDIDATES OPPOSE VETERANS ON VILLAGE BOARD

Two Full Tickets in Field;
Will Vote on Boxing,
Wrestling, April 18

An entire slate of new candidates to oppose the veteran officeholders has brought added interest to the forthcoming village election at which three trustees are to be elected. The polling will take place at the annual election on April 18.

The new comers who have filed on the Peoples party are Arthur Rosenfeldt, Clete Vos and Elmer Rentner, while the Citizens side of the ballot will carry the names of two veterans seeking re-election, J. B. Drom and E. O. Hawkins, and Otto S. Klass, a new candidate for village office to succeed Robt. Wilton whose term expires this April 30.

Business Men

The Peoples party candidates are all closely identified with prominent business firms in the village. Rosenfeldt is plant superintendent at the Antioch garage of W. A. Rosing & Son; Vos for many years has been connected with the Antioch Lumber and Coal company, and Rentner is owner and manager of the R. & H. Chevrolet company. All have been residents of the village for many years and are well known.

On the Citizens ticket are two veterans: E. O. Hawkins, with 15 years continuous service as trustee, and sharing honors with Mayor George B. Bartlett for the deanship of village office holders; and J. B. Drom with 14 years record as trustee. The third candidate on the Citizens ticket is Otto S. Klass, Antioch clothier, and former commander of the local American Legion post.

Many Long in Office

Other board members have held office for varying periods. Fire Chief James Stearns has been trustee for six years; L. D. Powles and Walter Scott have each served for four years; and Wilton retires after four years in office.

Village Clerk Murrie has seen 11 years service on the village board, four as trustee and seven as clerk, to which office he was elected following the death of the late Harry Isaacs, seven years ago.

A second ballot which the voters will be asked to mark on election day carries the proposition of whether or not professional boxing, sparring or wrestling matches will be permitted within the municipality. A tentative date (April 28) has been set for the holding of the firemen's boxing-wrestling show here pending the outcome of the election.

WILLIS WEBB, OF MILLBURN, DIES

Well Known Farmer Passes Away at Kenosha Hospital, Aged 54

Services were held Sunday afternoon in the Millburn church for Willis S. Webb, Millburn farmer, who died in the Kenosha hospital Thursday at the age of 54. The church service at 1:30 o'clock, was preceded with a service at the home at 1 o'clock. Interment was in the Hickory cemetery.

Mr. Webb's death was attributed to a heart ailment. He was born in Effingham, Ill., but spent the greater part of his life in Lake and Kenosha counties.

He was united in marriage in August, 1910, to Miss Daisy Faulkner of Gurnee, who survives him. He is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. George Murrie, Millburn.

Players to present Old Favorite at Crystal Thursday

Special arrangements have been made by the J. B. Rotnour players for the presentation here next Thursday night at the Crystal of that grand old masterpiece, "Over the Hills to the Poor House." The cast of players will be enlarged for this production and there will be new vaudeville between the acts.

Tonight the company presents "The Seventh Commandment." Get merchants free tickets and pay only ten cents at the box office.

Grass Fire Damages Cottage at Loon Lake

An unwatched grass fire damaged a summer cottage at Loon Lake to the extent of about $100 Tuesday afternoon.

The Antioch Township Volunteer Fire department received a call to the location at 1:20 p. m.

On their arrival, the firemen found that the blaze had set fire to the rear porch of the cottage, owned by John Hanson, Chicago. Because the smoke was at first attributed to the burning grass, the fire had gained some headway before it was discovered and the call sent in.

ONE KILLED, ONE HURT IN ACCIDENT

Couple in Car Wrecked
Wed. Night Not Discovered Until Thurs. a. m.

Dave Bianco, manager of the Villa Bianco, Round Lake, is still in a critical condition in St. Therese's hospital, Waukegan as the result of an automobile accident in which Miss Mary Vogt of Round Lake was killed last Wednesday night.

The car driven by Bianco apparently swerved from a gravel road near Long Lake on which they were riding, and crashed into a large tree.

It was not discovered until morning, when Robert Coates of Round Lake saw it as he was on his way to work on a WPA project. He notified the girl's father, Joseph Vogt, and a doctor and ambulance were summoned. Miss Vogt was believed to have been instantly killed at the time of the crash. She had a fractured neck and fractures of the arms and legs.

Bianco had a possible skull fracture and internal injuries, and his hands and legs were frozen. He was at first believed to be dead, also, but was removed to St. Therese's when the doctors' examination revealed him to be still living.

Miss Vogt's body was taken to an undertaking parlor at Grayslake, where a coroner's inquest was held.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday, in the Round Lake Community church, with burial in Fort Hill cemetery.

Surviving, besides her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vogt of Round Lake, are a sister, Mrs. Clifford Benwell, Wauconda township, and three brothers, Edward, Bernard and Frank Vogt, all of Round Lake. A sister and a brother died in infancy.

DEATH ENDS LONG, USEFUL CAREER OF TRUMAN AMES

Funeral Services Are Held
Today for Antioch
Resident, 88

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 1 o'clock for one of Antioch's oldest and best loved residents, Truman Ames, who passed away Monday night at the home on South Main street which he shared with his sisters, Miss Ella Ames and Miss Lillian Ames.

Mr. Ames would have been 88 years of age if he had lived until this coming summer. He was born June 25, 1851, on the old Ames homestead north of Hickory Corners. His parents were Elijah and Phoebe Ames, Lake county pioneers.

In 1871 he went east to Pennsylvania, where he worked for an uncle. He was graduated from the State Normal school at Mansfield, Pa. He afterward studied law with a cousin in Williamsport, Pa., and was admitted to the bar.

He practiced law for several years in Du Bois, Pa., and while there he was united in marriage with Miss Nellie Doyen. Two sons were born to them, Jay H. Ames, who died seven years ago in Helena, Mont., and Howard T. Ames, who lives in Waukegan.

The young couple left Du Bois to go to Elk Point, S. Dak. There Mr. Ames did abstract and legal work. Coming back to this section of the country, he was for some time associated with Judge Jones in abstract work in Waukegan.

When his health failed, he and Mrs. Ames went back to the west, this time to Montana, where Mrs. Ames died, in 1907.

In 1924, Ames again returned to Waukegan. He made his home there for a year with his son, Howard. The following year he came to Antioch, and has since resided in this village.

Survivors besides his sisters include his son and one grandson in Waukegan, and a daughter-in-law and three grandsons in Helena, Mont.

One of 10 Children

The Rev. W. C. Henslee, pastor of the Antioch Methodist church, officiated at the services this afternoon, in Strang's Funeral Home. Interment was in the Union cemetery at Hickory.

Mr. Ames and the Misses Ella and Lillian were the only surviving members of a family of seven sisters and three brothers.

They included Walter Ames, who served in the Civil War and died in Pennsylvania; Lydia (Mrs. Jerome Story), of Antioch; Dr. Edmond Ames, who was for many years a physician here and who died in 1917; Risipah (Mrs. Oscar Grandy), of Garfield, Kansas; Alice, who died in infancy; Miss Watty Ames, of Antioch, and Edith, who died in infancy.

Voted for Grant

Mr. Ames' interesting career was the subject for many enjoyable reminiscences when he was chatting with friends. His first vote was cast for General Grant, in 1874, and he had missed only one presidential election since that time. Besides his legal activities, he taught school in Pennsylvania, Illinois, South Dakota and Montana. He remained active in his later years, and conducted a furniture repair shop after coming to Antioch.

Although he traveled widely, he always liked to recall the deep impression made on him by his first train ride, at the age of 20, from Bristol to Kenosha.

Road Grader Gets Real Welcome—including Band

A brass band and much rejoicing greeted the arrival of Round Lake Meach's newly purchased $5,295 road grader at the village Saturday afternoon. In the official ceremonial of welcome Hans Roeh, mayor, formally cut the tape that opened the road for the machine.

Firemen Receive Call for Use of Inhalator

A call for the Antioch Fire department' inhalator and oxygen tanks was received from Fox Lake late Tuesday afternoon, when the latter's supply of oxygen ran out as the Fox Lake firemen endeavored to bring back to consciousness Mrs. Charles Berger, who collapsed on a downtown street there.

Mrs. Berger had left her home to walk downtown when she suffered a sudden heart attack and fell, striking and cutting her head. The firemen's efforts to save her by administering oxygen proved of no avail, and she passed away without regaining consciousness.

The Antioch Fire department maintains three tanks of oxygen and an inhalator on hand for use when persons are overcome by smoke or gas fumes, and for similar emergencies.

PRODUCERS FOR STATE MILK CONTROL BILL

The proposed state milk control act sponsored by the Illinois Milk Producers Association and independent groups of dairymen in the state was introduced in the House at Springfield, March 15, with nine legislators sponsoring the bill, according to the Illinois Agricultural Association.

The contents of the bill were explained by Wilfred Shaw, secretary of the State Milk Producers at a meeting of interested groups and legislators, and the state director of agriculture.

Sponsoring the legislation in the House are Representatives Hunter, Golger, Collins, Dillinger, Fidler, Friedland, C. D. Johnson, McGaughey, and White.

The purpose of the legislation is to set up a state milk control board to license and bond dealers to guarantee payment for milk delivered by producers, to relieve chaotic conditions in milk markets that interfere with delivery of a regular supply of high quality milk, to protect interests of consumers and producers, to hold hearings and require the keeping of accurate records, and to set minimum prices to producers when two-thirds of the producers in any marketing area approve. There is an emergency provision in the bill which would give the board power to set minimum retail and wholesale prices for milk and cream for a short emergency period which in any calendar year shall not exceed 60 days.

The bill is modeled closely after the Indiana Act which has been operating successfully for several years, Shaw said. There are approximately 22 states with state milk control legislation.

EXPECT HEAVY VOTE IN TOWN ELECTION APR. 4

Friends of Candidates Active in Rounding up Votes for Favorites

One of the heaviest votes ever recorded here in an off year election is expected at the township election on April 4, according to election officials and political observers.

Active campaigns are being waged for candidates for supervisor and for highway commissioner, with three candidates vying for the supervisor post and four entrants in the commissioner race. These contests are going to be close and will call out a large vote, political railbirds say.

Heading the Peoples ticket for supervisor is Bernard F. Naber, incumbent, who relies on his record of economy and the efficient handling of the affairs of the township's most important office, to again return him to office.

Friends of the supervisor declare that he has in his favor the fact that no criticism of importance can be leveled at his administration.

Hattendorf Receives Aid

William Hattendorf, youngest of the trio of candidates for the office is receiving major support among the young voters, his friends say. At a meeting Saturday the Young Republican club of Antioch township voted to support the candidacy of Hattendorf. Members of the local club of which Hattendorf is president point out that his three years work in the county clerk's office and his four years in the treasurer's office have given him added qualifications for the office to which he aspires.

Webb, Ardent Campaigner

James Webb, present constable who topped the township vote for that office two years ago, is prosecuting a vigorous campaign, aided by many friends who are working for him. Those working in Webb's behalf point out that his spotless record in both public and private life will prove a valuable asset in the campaign. Before coming to Antioch over 20 years ago, Webb was local manager for the Farmers New Era Telephone company at Richmond. Since becoming a resident here he was employed by the Antioch Oil company until injured in a highway crash last August.

Four Seek Road Job

Strong rivalry and intense activity marks the local race for highway commissioner with four candidates aspiring to the township's most remunerative office.

The candidates are Carl Barthel, incumbent, who has had seven years' experience as commissioner; Edward J. Flanagan, former state highway patrolman, who was elected constable two years ago; Thomas Runyard of Channahon; and Edward Hildebrandt of Grass Lake.

Two Library Trustees

Last on the ballot are two candidates for members of the Antioch Township Library board. They are Dr. L. John Zimmerman and Mrs. Louise Vos. Only two are to be elected and the candidates are unopposed.

New Census Is Due

It might be well for Mr. and Mrs. Citizen to brush up a bit on personal history in the next few months. Reason is that the census takers will be around before long with a set of questions that are likely to put a heavy strain on most people's memory.

It is not going to be a job of just counting noses, etc. This year the government wants to know what each citizen was doing 10 years ago; where he lived 10 years ago; what his earnings were, and any number of other memory puzzlers.

Real Propaganda

(From the Baltimore Sun)

Twice, recently, ships loaded with refugees from Germany have touched at Baltimore on their way to other ports. On both occasions the same thing happened. The passengers, given shore leave, have made a rush to the Baltimore restaurants to eat butter. The reason is that at home most of them had not seen butter for months, or years, so when they found that any amount was available here they went wild.

The speeches of the statesmen, the charts and graphs of the economists, and the statistics of the military experts are sometimes hard for the ordinary man to understand, so frequently he disregards them and misses their implications altogether. But tell him that under Nazi rule ordinary folk are not allowed to have butter, and you have told him something significant, something that he understands, something that gives him a solid, tangible reason for opposing Nazi rule. Absence of butter is propaganda that works.

Maybe So

A Kansas woman, whose husband allowed her 10 cents a day to do just as she pleased with, saved these dimes until she accumulated enough money to buy a divorce. There are some women in this world a man can't afford to be nice to.

Working for Uncle Sam

A current report of the U. S. Civil Service Commission shows there were 917,303 persons holding Federal government jobs last December. This is the highest figure on record, and does not include the army, navy, CCC, WPA or PWA.

Thus, the complexities of the Washington government are well revealed by the fact that it takes about a million persons to handle them.

Then if the army, navy, CCC, WPA and other government projects are included, it is estimated that one of every eight of America's working population receives his pay from the Federal tax till. That means that the other seven must somehow earn the taxes to pay the salary of the one and at the same time contribute to the support of State, county and local governmental agencies.

So it is not enough that a man earn a living for himself and family. No matter what his wages—whether they are sufficient to buy all the things he and his family would like to have—he must give up part of his earnings to help meet the ever expanding payroll in Washington.

Think It Over

Man, maybe this is your trouble. When you were a boy, you wouldn't study. When you were a young man, you did not try to improve yourself in a trade or in a business.

And now that another man is doing better than you are, because he knows more than you do, you yell that there is something wrong with the social system.

The social system is all right. The trouble is that from the very first you trained yourself to become a bum.

Government in Business

One reason why government competition in business is so hurtful is that when the government arrives at the end of the year with a deficit it merely asks Congress for a deficiency appropriation which the owners of competing private business help pay. When private business arrives at the end of the year in an insolvent condition it cannot call upon Congress for a deficiency appropriation. It must close its doors.

Hidden taxes equal 7 per cent of the retail price of bread, 8.2 per cent of beef, and 16.6 per cent of sugar.

Some of the "low cost" housing projects have been found to be costing the government $8,760 per unit.

PETER INTERPRETS CHRIST'S SUFFERINGS AND DEATH

LESSON TEXT—1 Peter 1:17-23; 2:20-25.
GOLDEN TEXT—For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit.—1 Peter 3:18.

A witness is one who knows by personal experience about that concerning which he testifies. Certainly no one could speak with more propriety or assurance concerning the sufferings and death of Christ than Peter. As one of the inner circle, he, with James and John, was with Jesus on almost every important occasion. He was on the Mount of Transfiguration, and with the Lord in the garden of Gethsemane. He witnessed His trial and in all probability His crucifixion. He was first at the empty tomb. Furthermore, he could speak as one who had in a moment of weakness denied the Lord and who had come by way of doubt and despair back to his faith in the Saviour. It is not only appropriate that we should study Peter's words on this subject but it is also the greatest possible theme with which to close our three-month study of the life and work of Peter. For all that he was and all that he did, can be explained only by his faith in a redeeming Christ.

I. Christ—the Saviour (1 Pet. 1:17-23).

It is highly important that we meet the flood of smoothly phrased recognition of our Christ as the Master which at the same time denies Him as dying Redeemer. Hence we stress

1. A redemption by blood (vv. 17-20). This is a subject that all those who know God and "call on him as Father" (v. 17) approach in that reverential attitude which we call the "fear of God," which is not a cringing fear but a loving reverence. In that spirit we should proclaim that apart from the shedding of Christ's blood there can be no remission of sin. Money and other material things can only purchase other material and corruptible things. Our redemption could be bought only by the precious blood of the sinless, divine, and eternal Son of God, Jesus Christ (vv. 19, 20).

2. A life of faith (vv. 21-23). The faith and hope of the Christian are "in God." We do not trust in the arm of flesh. Our assurance is not in man or his devices. The gathering of riches, the increase of armaments, the acquisition of new territory by fair means or foul—let foolish men who know not God rejoice in such assurances of safety, but our faith is in God.

This life of faith is not an inactive thing, a settling back into a comfortable but effortless appreciation of God's great gift. It leads to obedience to the truth; fervent, unfeigned love of the brethren; purity of life (v. 22). Being born again means living in newness of life in Christ.

II. Christ—the Example (1 Pet. 2:20-25).

Christ is not our example in the sense that we are to attain to eternal life and joy by an imitation of His life. That would be manifestly impossible, for we would have to begin where He began—He was without sin. But we "all have sinned and come short of the glory of God." We need a Saviour, not an example, as far as redemption is concerned. Having been saved by faith in His blood, we are ready to look upon Him as our example.

1. Our suffering (vv. 20, 21). One of the serious problems of life is suffering, and as we suggested last week, being a Christian does not grant us any immunity. If we suffer because of our own sin, we must expect to bear the result patiently; but even above that, when we find ourselves suffering for well-doing, we are to glorify God by bearing it patiently for Christ's sake. Nothing is a stronger testimony for Christ than a true Christian spirit in time of trial and sorrow.

2. The suffering of Christ (vv. 21-25). Our minds turn to Isaiah 53 and Psalm 22, as well as to the Gospel narratives, as we think of our Lord's suffering. As we read the words, "Christ . . . suffered for you," we join the saintly expositor of the Word who fell upon his face sobbing, "For me, for me, He bore it all for me." How can anyone reject Him? How can you, unsaved reader of these lines, any longer turn this loving Saviour away?

These are trying days for the souls of men. In many parts of the world Christians are tasting the bitter cup of persecution. The day may come when we must meet the same fate, and even now we know what it means to bear the scorn of unbelievers. Shall we become fearful or embittered in our hearts? No, "consider him that endured such contradiction of sinners against himself, lest ye be wearied and faint in your minds. Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin" (Heb. 12:3, 4). But He did! Wonderful Saviour!

Foes in Pinehurst Tourney

Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page (left) runnerup last year, and Patty Berg, youthful national women's golf champion will renew their rivalry Monday in the thirty-seventh annual north and south championship tourney at Pinehurst, N. C., country club. Mrs. Page won the medal at Pinehurst last year with a 69, lowest round ever turned in by a woman golfer in medal competition.

II Duce Celebrates

With a new message for the world, Italy's Premier Mussolini had a big day today. The new chamber of fasces and corporations was inaugurated, succeeding the Italian chamber of deputies. The date also marks the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the first "Fascio di Combattimento," Mussolini's storm troopers.

Unhappy Recollection
Unpleasantest recollection a girl may have is that her father and mother told her that the man she was going to marry "was no good," and that they were right.

Air Conditioning Gets Attention Of Illini Savants

U. of I. Heating Research Extended to Year-Around Home Comfort.

With two decades of experience in studying home heating problems, University of Illinois research engineers have been turning their attention for the past several years to year-around air conditioning.

Practically every new home heating installation today embodies results of their past work; now they are studying home comfort air conditioning as a year-around job, and not just winter heating. At the same time scientists in the University's College of Medicine in Chicago are studying effects of air conditioning upon individuals. College of Agriculture scientists, placing animals in air-conditioned rooms, are learning facts about life processes which will be of great value to humans.

Complete air conditioning, explain University of Illinois engineers, involves five factors:

1. Summer cooling and winter warming.
2. Summer dehumidification and winter humidification.
3. Circulation.
4. Removal of dust and odors.
5. Introduction and conditioning of outdoor air.

For student training as well as research, the Illini engineers have installed a laboratory air-conditioning apparatus 42 feet long and two stories high, which provides a dozen various methods of treating air and studying results. It is the most complete of its kind.

They also have just completed a huge insulated room containing a complete portion of a house for study of year-around air conditioning problems. Here temperatures from 110° above zero to 5° below can be produced at will and maintained as desired for study of any home temperature question.

Year-around studies are also made in a $25,000 Research residence, erected at the University in 1924 by the National Warm Air Heating and Air Conditioning association for work of the Illini engineers.

Rare Products Come From Illini Chemistry Laboratory

Rare organic chemicals, not commercially available elsewhere, are manufactured by the University of Illinois for research workers throughout the world. Annual orders total $14,000 for chemicals not on the market because of small demand.

Universities, hospitals, and research laboratories are principal customers of this unusual University of Illinois activity, which last summer gave employment to 23 selected graduate students.

Among institutions buying are the Pasteur Institute of France; Middlesex hospital of London, England; U. S. department of agriculture; and U. S. naval stations.

His New Name

Every revolution throws up some curious quirks in human nature. In the French revolution they abolished nobility, prohibited religion and made a new calendar for themselves, and the story of M. de Saint-Janiver shows how all three worked out in practice. They abolished the "de" in his name because it smacked of nobility; the "Saint," because it reminded of religion; and the "Janiver" (January) because they had changed the calendar; so his name went down on the records as: "Citizen Nivoso, formerly De Saint-Janiver."

Two-Dimensional History

Every great man deserves an autobiography and a biography—one tell his side of the story, and one to give the lowdown.

AMERICAN FOUNDATION FOR ANIMAL HEALTHFARMERS SUFFERING
HEAVY LOSSES FROM THIS SWINE DISEASE

Farmers have real cause for concern over a comparatively new swine disease which has broken out in America. The disease, a virulent form of swine erysipelas, has already made its appearance in at least 28 states. It of appetite, fever, sometimes partial prostration, and a tendency to separate from the herd. The worst feature is that the symptoms are so similar to hog cholera that it is next to impossible for the farmer to tell the two apart.

As a result, the first and most important safeguard is prompt action by the veterinarian. If treated properly before it becomes chronic, erysipelas can be checked, the hogs saved, and spread of the outbreak prevented. But travels rapidly, and is very difficult to curb. In Europe, it has made such inroads that it now kills more hogs than cholera. This indicates how serious a threat it is to American swine growers.

Symptoms of the disease are lack if allowed to go unchecked for a time. Little can be done that will be of value. Erysipelas has already made serious inroads in some swine territories, and if it is to be kept under control, farmers should be eternally vigilant to protect their hogs from the disease.

Engineering Research In Need of U. S. Aid, Says Illini President

Federal aid should be given to engineering research as well as to agricultural research in the Land Grant colleges, asserts President Arthur Cutts Willard of the University of Illinois, where the nation's first Engineering Experiment Station was established in 1903. President Willard was director of that station and dean of the College of Engineering before being elevated to his present post.

Annually, $16,000,000, of which $5,000,000 is federal money, is expended in Agricultural Experiment Stations, and only $1,250,000, of which none is federal money, is spent for the 39 Engineering Experiment Stations in the nation today, he explains.

"Engineering experiment stations have demonstrated their value, not only to the industries and the public in discovering new scientific truth of value to the public at large, and in training research workers, but also in developing and stimulating the teaching, faculties and students of the colleges and universities of which they are an important part."

"They are badly in need of funds from federal, state, and other sources for a co-ordinated program of teaching and research in the land grant institutions," he says, explaining that these institutions were created for the dual purpose of "agriculture and the mechanic arts."

University of Illinois Men Study Railway Problems

High speeds of modern railway trains are providing new problems to be studied in the laboratories of the University of Illinois, which has the only railway engineering department in the nation. Brakes, wheels, rails, fuel, and other factors have been studied at Illinois for more than 30 years.

Recent tests under service conditions in the Illinois brake shoe laboratory show that brakes act very differently at 80 to 100 miles an hour than at 60 or less. The intense heat generated by brake applications softens the metal of the brake shoes, which wears away quickly, and even becomes welded in patches to the wheel tread.

The tread itself may be damaged in cooling from the intense surface heat.
